

Call for Papers

Friends and colleagues,

We invite paper submissions for the conference on “Expectations in Dynamic Macroeconomic Models,” to be held at the University of Birmingham, UK, this summer. The conference aims to bring together leading experts in the modeling of expectations in dynamic macroeconomic models.

Please email a paper (or detailed abstract/summary) to bmcgough@uoregon.edu

The deadline for paper submission is April 15th, 2018. We anticipate selecting approximately 15 papers for inclusion in the conference program. Corresponding authors of successful submissions will be notified by mid-May.

For convenience, we include details on the conference below. Please contact Bruce McGough or Bruce Preston (bruce.preston@unimelb.edu.au) with questions and concerns.

We look forward to receiving your submissions.
